

sense without parts, not simple minded. But, I'm as simple as a straight line. I am as transparent as a piece of window glass. When people try to attribute to me all kinds of mystical, understandings and powers, they have created something that they fail to understand. But, if they would listen to what I say, it as easy to understand me as it is to understand the word cat if I spot you the first two letters, which by the way one football player said, another football player couldn't spell if you spotted him the first two letters, he couldn't spell cat if you spotted him the "ca". That is what happens sometimes, speaking figuratively on this floor. We get lost in a proposal that we spend a lot of time on and holding on to what we have put together becomes more important than achieving the goal. There is nothing that Senator Beutler or anybody else has said who may question Senator Witek's amendment, which indicates that her amendment, if adopted, will not put in place a means to help encourage people to pay their child support, and for once, Mr. Christian... Mr. Kristensen, Senator Kristensen, I think about that guy on that ship, he said something that I agree with one hundred percent. The one who issues the order should have the means the enforce the order. Do you know that the way this bill is complicated and messed up with what Senator Beutler...

PRESIDENT ROBAK: One minute.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...and others are offering us. There is a chance and places along the way where a judge's order may never be enforced. The order is issued. You have a county attorney, you have these so called authorized attorneys and they can sabotage the whole thing. If you leave the kettle that is boiling under the control of the one who built the fire, put the ingredients in the kettle, that person is responsible for whether or not we come out with soup, which is delectable or the bubble, bubble, boil, toil and trouble. I agree with Senator Witek's amendment. I am opposed to Senator Beutler's. I will ask the Chair, is this my third time of speaking on Senator Beutler's amendment?

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Yes, Senator.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Then I won't turn on my light again.

PRESIDENT ROBAK: Thank you Senator Chambers. Senator Dierks.
